

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

Constitutional Amendments.

Two important amendments to the Constitution passed in 1913, and the election held void because Secretary of State Crecelius forgot to advertise them properly, are to be voted on again this year. One is for the purpose of changing the system of taxation and the other to permit convicts to be worked on public roads. The last legislature by a practically unanimous vote submitted both questions. The voters should be sure to reaffirm the former vote by voting for them again.

It is hardly necessary under the circumstances, to refer to the merits of the questions but a brief statement may refresh the minds of many who have lost sight of the arguments brought out when they were first adopted. The convicts have been worked successfully on the roads in a great many States, and in no Commonwealth where it has been tried has it ever been abandoned. It cheapens the cost of road construction more than half, and is also good for the health and moral well being of the convicts themselves and takes them out of competition with organized labor in the manufacture of articles in the penitentiaries.

Under our present tax system the State is receiving less from intangible property than the tax on dogs and it is believed that with the Constitution amended hundreds of millions of this kind of property can be found for taxation with a properly formed statute. One of the clauses of this amendment provides that if it is adopted by the people that the new revenue system devised by the following Legislature shall be submitted to the people before it can become operative. In other words that it cannot become a law unless the people approves of it by a vote at a regular election. Both of these amendments have been endorsed by the platforms of both the leading political parties so it is not a political question, but should receive the support of both Democrats and Republicans alike.

Many prominent female suffrage leaders from over the south were at the Nashville fair Thursday and were the guests of the state committee of the woman suffrage movement. Several of them made addresses.

The Elizabethtown News says a great deal of noise is being made about the Dixie Bee Line. To be sure, and much of the noise is made by automobiles going to and from the South by the only direct route from Chicago.

A Swiss report says the Royal Palace at Stuttgart, Germany, was badly damaged by the raids of the allied aviators Wednesday and that several members of the royal family were in the palace at the time.

Congressman T. W. Sims has withdrawn from the race for Senator in Tennessee. If McKellar, who is fighting Patterson, will do the same thing, there will be a horse race between Sims and Patterson.

Even the big papers sometimes make breaks. The Louisville Times says Owen Tyler, who has been shipping horses to France, is going abroad "in connection with this pork."

Pearl Parimeter, a twelve-year-old girl at Marinette, Wis., captured a prize as the champion rat-killer. She killed 17 without jumping into a single chair.

Petrograd says the Germans not only failed to catch the Russians, but lost 250,000 men trying to "loop the loop."

Carranza has moved his government from Vera Cruz to Mexico City.

MODEL SYSTEM CO-OPERATION

Eyes of The Whole Country Are Fixed on Christian.

GOVERNMENT EXPERTS HERE

To Study The Plan That Has Made Hopkinsville so Prosperous.

Jesse L. Jones, division field agent of the department of agriculture at Washington; Geoffrey Morgan, state agent for farm demonstration work in Kentucky; Morgan Hughes, western division agent, and Thomas Collins, eastern division agent, were here Tuesday to get facts and figures relative to the spirit of co-operation existing between the town and country people of Christian county, and the advance made in agriculture since a farm demonstrator was employed three years ago, this to be used in a write-up to be printed in the forthcoming yearbook of the bureau of agriculture. Culpepper county, Virginia, is the only other county in the South to be so honored. All day the visitors held meetings of town and country people who called and gave such information as they could. They remained over yesterday to continue their request for further information. They are especially anxious for actual figures to show the improvement made in agriculture, both as to methods employed and results attained.

The first meeting was at the H. B. M. A. but the afternoon meeting was adjourned to The Avalon to get larger quarters. The discussions took a wide range and many interesting speeches were made on the different phases of the work.

Mr. Jones took voluminous notes and will get up a report to be used as a model method for other states and counties. The key note of all the speeches was that there should be no antagonisms between city and country, but a spirit of co-operation should be mutual and material interest so interwoven that each could appeal to the other for support. Purchasing clubs to deal with distant markets or pools formed to destroy local business houses were condemned. No county can prosper without a well sustained home market and no city in an agricultural section can live without a country to back it. When both pull together, the ideal system is evolved and country and town grow together, the money all spent at home.

WILL IS PROBATED

Mr. Saturley's Estate Left to Children by Instrument Dated Oct. 22, 1914.

The will of the late H. C. Saturley was probated in County Court Wednesday afternoon. After small bequests to some of his children, the remainder of his estate was left to his daughter, Sarah Duncan. R. M. Anderson is named as administrator. The will bears date of Oct. 22, 1914.

WELL NAMED.

Imperator, John H. Williams' great champion Duroc Jersey boar, has a coming rival in "The Kentuckian," a two-year-old boar that won a prize at the State Fair. He will be seen with the rest of Mr. Williams' herd at the Pennyroyal Fair next week. By-the-way, Imperator established a new record last week. The Farmers Home Journal says: "Judge W. T. Harris, of Morganfield, declared that never before had he given first, second, third and fourth prize to the get of one boar of any breed. All the winners were sired by Imperator, and Mr. Williams was offered fancy prices for the animals, but would not sell them as he expects to breed them."

DOCTORS COMING HERE

Kentucky Medical Association Expects Invitation For 1916.

THOUGHT IT PARADISE

C. H. Stratton, of Sullivan, Ind., Was Wonderfully Pleased.

C. H. Stratton, who was one of the speakers at the Park meeting here, has contributed to the Sullivan, Ind., Times an article of which the following is a part:

Never in my brief experience, have I had the pleasure of seeing such a display of enthusiasm over anything as was shown in the reception, last week, in the good states of Kentucky and Tennessee of the vice-presidents, and their guests, who have in charge the locating of the Dixie Bee Line.

Thursday morning, which was the fourth day, we left Hopkinsville at eight o'clock on our way to Clarksville, Tennessee, by the way of Masonville, Fidelity, Thompsonville and Edgerton through the most beautiful country and over the best roads that we saw on our entire trip. All along the line are beautiful farms under the highest state of cultivation. Great many of the houses looked to be from twelve to twenty room affairs, they were most all away back from the road with beautiful trees and lawns in front. The roads were of those kind that we dream about. After looking over the city of Clarksville for a short time we drove on out to Adams, Tennessee, and on the road we saw some new pikes that had been built under the direction of Mr. Whitaker, a Government Expert, who by the way was with our party. This new road as near as I could tell was perfect and it was through a very hilly country. We turned around again and went back to Clarksville and were taken down to the Cave Picnic grounds, where we were served with a barbecue dinner.

As we were spinning along over the beautiful roads between Hopkinsville and Clarksville, along through a country with its broad acres of tobacco just now in harvest, with the beautiful homes and well-kept outbuildings, with its happy, industrious and cultured people along the roads, with their welcome and hospitality, one of our crowd could not help saying, "If this is not paradise, where is it?"

There are more than 800 farmers' clubs in Minnesota at the present time.

FRIDAY IS SCHOOL DAY

And All School Children Will Be Admitted For Twenty-Five Cents.

WEDNESDAY SOLDIERS' DAY

Poultry Exhibits Promise To Surpass Any Previous Fairs.

School children of any age will be admitted to the Fair grounds for 25 cts. on Friday October 1st. The attendance on this day will be very large, for all the schools in the county will be dismissed to go to the Fair and celebrate school children's day.

The exhibits of school work will all be in the building erected for this purpose and on account of the progress made during the year these exhibits are predicted by those in charge to be far superior to last year.

Especially good work has been done in Manual Training, Domestic Science and Art and the exhibits already prepared insure the success of these departments.

The list of premiums offered includes articles of fancy work, wearing apparel, canned goods, candy, cakes and lightbread making. In fact there are premiums offered for all kinds of work that is done in the schools.

Old Soldiers who wore the Blue or Gray will be admitted free to the Fair on Old Soldiers day will be on Wednesday the opening day of the fair. It is especially requested by the management that old soldiers in the city on Wednesday visit the fair.

The Poultry Department is getting things in shape and the many visitors to the Poultry show will be surprised to see the number of additions to the ranks of breeders in Christian county. The improvement in flocks of thoroughbred poultry has been wonderful and the management has offered many special premiums to Christian county breeders in order to bring out these flocks of pure-bred poultry.

The encouragement given by poultry breeders who were showing at Louisville makes President Cowherd believe that there will be a large number of exhibitors from other parts of the state. The birds shown by these breeders will not compete with Christian county birds except in the open competition classes.

The turkeys will be cooped in the annex to the poultry building provided there is room but provision has been made in the lower end of the man's building for the overflow.

The Duck and Goose display will be larger than previous years for the season has been especially favorable for water fowls.

County Agriculturist Casey has been very busy this week with the Government visitors but at the same time has lost no time in working up his agriculture exhibits for the fair. He runs off at times to make trips to the country or get a farmer to the telephone or is called away by some exhibitor who has brought some product of the farm to enter in the fair.

VERY CLOSE WAS FINISH

In Nashville's Run-off Election Thursday For Commissioners.

ONE RACE STILL IN DOUBT

Treanor Leads By Few Votes But Official Count is Necessary.

Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 24.—George J. Tompkins was elected commissioner of fire, sprinkling and building inspection at the municipal election Thursday by a majority of 1,460 over J. J. Killen. On the face of unofficial returns Paul W. Treanor in the race for commissioner of finance, lights and market house is leading James B. Armstrong by twenty-nine votes.

The latter race is so close that it will take the official count to determine the victor.

Both Treanor and Armstrong are claiming the victory.

The run-off of Thursday follows a primary of two weeks ago when six candidates for finance commissioner and eight candidates in the fire commissioner's race were eliminated.

The Stork.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Mack Smith, at Hadensville, Sept. 22, a son, Henry Smith.

ENCOUNTERED QUARANTINE

And Official Red Tape Caused Heavy Loss to Trigg Cattle Men.

Wallace & Broadbent encountered quarantine laws at Marion, Ill., that prevented the exhibition of their fine herd of Hereford cattle at three fairs. These splendid cattle were shown at the fairs at Henderson, Ky., and Marion, Ill., and at both places took practically every premium they contested for, the amount of these premiums being sufficient to pay all expenses of exhibiting them.

They were then taken to Marion, Ill., and the Kentucky quarantine, on account of the foot and mouth disease, prevented their return to Kentucky, although the disease was nowhere near Marion. Alex Wallace went to Illinois and at much expense finally secured a conditional release and they were allowed to be returned to the farms of their owners at Cerulean, but they are to be kept in quarantine there for two weeks before they can be moved from their farms. These cattle reached Cerulean Tuesday, accompanied by Mr. Wallace, who had expected to exhibit at Owensboro, Hopkinsville and Paducah. The hardship was an unnecessary one from every standpoint of common sense.

FOOTBALL

First of The Scheduled Games at Park Today.

The first regular game of the football season will be played at Mercer Park this afternoon between High School and Montgomery Bell Academy, of Nashville.

The local team is in fine fettle and expects to start in another winning streak. The boys have been in training since school opened, with Prof. Mallary as coach and are confident of their ability to defeat the visitors.

READY TO EXCAVATE.

The work of tearing down the house on the Methodist church lot has been finished and the materials have been moved away except the foundations and debris. The church contractors will begin next week.

GERMANS SHOW HAND

To Make Their Way Through Serbia and an Intervening Neutral Country.

BALKAN ENIGMA UNSOLVED

Uncertainty Exists as to Intention of Bulgarian King and Advisers.

London, Sept. 24.—The Balkan situation still presents an unsolved mystery. The greatest uncertainty exists even in official circles in London as to the intention of King Ferdinand of Bulgaria and his advisers.

In fact it is not yet certain that mobilization has begun or that date has been set for it. One report from Athens says mobilization has been postponed.

The central powers already have commenced their attempt to make their way through Serbia one of the intervening neutral countries to the Aegean. With Russia more than holding her own against the Austro-Germans in Galicia and Volhynia, it is believed here that the Balkan powers would hesitate before going contrary to the wishes of their big neighbor and protector.

The Russians also are doing better on the northern end of their line and have prevented Field Marshal von Hindenburg from reaching the Dvina river, west of Dvinsk, where the Germans claim to have penetrated their positions.

Southwest of Vilna the Russian rear guards, which made possible the escape of the main Vilna army from the Oerman net, are now falling back and in doing so have left some prisoners in the hands of the Germans.

Prince Leopold of Bavaria has made a slight advance but Field Marshall von Mackensen and his Austrian colleagues in the south are at a standstill or are even being pushed back.

The big guns continue to boom along the western front and the men on both sides are finding plenty of employment in mining, bombing and air fights which are now an almost hourly experience.

There has been something happening in the North sea, correspondence at Ameland, a Dutch island off the coast of Friesland, reporting heavy firing to the north last night and again today.

REFUSED TO HELP.

The Trigg county Fiscal Court refused to appropriate $500 to aid the completion of the Julien pike two miles in Trigg county to Caledonia. The citizens subscribed $669 in money and graded the roadbed. The state agreed to give $669 and may give an amount equal to the cost of grading. If not the citizens will have to finish the road without county aid.

All Doubts Removed.

Owsley Stanley, accustomed to orations, accustomed to plaudits and accustomed to numbers, was visibly affected at the immense throng, and from that moment till the returns are counted in November, a doubt of his election will never cross his mind. Throngs of men will not travel from twenty to thirty miles over roads upon which an intelligent lick of work was never struck in order to attend a political gathering except they be vitally interested in the final outcome. Those people are Democrats of the old school, and well versed in the great work being done by Woodrow Wilson as are the people along Pennsylvania Avenue at Washington, and they will be early at the polls in November to cast a vote for the State ticket in Kentucky as a forerunner to the presidential election of 1916. Then again, they are plain men, and with Owsley Stanley they associate upon terms of equality. The man has not lived in Kentucky during the past century who can poll more votes than can Stanley. Had Ed. Morrow ever consented to appear upon the stump with him he would easily have made a monkey of him, and as it is he is making a fool of him. Stanley has, without the asking, been offered the aid of the nation's greatest orators, and once the ball is open Kentucky will witness a campaign the like of which has never been heard of in any sovereign state in the American union.—Franklin Favorite.

At Linden, N. J., the Police Justice Milton C. Lowden, 91, resigned and asked that he be relieved of his duties "in order to make room for a younger man." The committee, immediately filled the position by appointing as his successor, Peter Bundy, 87.

JUST HOW TO CURE A COLD

All Depends, Some Physicians Declare, on How the Patient Acquired the Complaint.

The proper treatment of a cold, according to many physicians, depends in some degree upon the way the person has taken the cold. It is necessary to go back to the beginning of the illness—to begin where the cold began.

For instance, if one catches cold by getting the feet cold, say by going out with thin shoes, and getting wet and chilled, it is not the cold but the long chilling that does the harm. The best measure is to take a hot foot bath. The cold got in through the feet, so it should be driven out through the feet.

If one gets cold by exposing the back of the neck to a draft, resulting in a lame back, soreness, cold and stiffness in the neck, then hot applications should be made to the back of the neck.

If the cold is the result of general exposure and a lowering of the general bodily temperature then a general hot bath is good. This should be taken at night. Drink a couple of glasses of hot water, get into the hot bath and stay there about half an hour.

Have the bath hot enough to set up perspiration. It may be as hot as one likes in the beginning, but when perspiration begins, lower the temperature to about 100 degrees, and keep it there for about half an hour more. Then lower it to about 95 degrees and stay in the bath another hour. One may safely remain in the bath two hours if suffering with a really bad cold.

Drink some more water at the close of the bath and go to bed. It is well to drink just as much water as one can.

GRAIN DOCKS AT ANTWERP

Plan Contemplates Concentration of All City's Business of That Particular Description.

The "dock of the concentration" at Antwerp was, by the action of the city authorities just prior to the declaration of war, to have been a reality in 1916. The plan, conceived ten years ago, is to concentrate at one great dock all the grain barges which serve as warehouses and the floating elevators which furnish the business to Antwerp's 300 grain houses. These elevators, with eight new ones voted last year, are twelve in number and are owned by the municipality. They are pneumatic, with a lift of 100 feet, and one cares for a cargo of 5,000 tons in about three days, which formerly detained a vessel there for fourteen days when hand labor was employed. While hostilities may perhaps set the work back another decade, hope may be derived by Antwerp and other stricken cities by remembering how calamity often has a most stimulating effect upon industry—as in such cases as San Francisco, Baltimore, etc.—Scientific American.

IMPROVEMENT.

"That man doesn't tell the truth half the time."

"Well," replied Senator Sorghum; "he must be reforming. A fifty per cent veracity average is pretty high for him."

THE NATURAL INFERENCE.

"It is said that a great many illicit distilleries have been found in Russia since the sale of vodka was prohibited."

"What do you infer from that?"

"Even an imperial ukase cannot take the edge off a national thirst."

ITS NAME.

"This collection of clippings is a history of prize fights."

"I know; that is why it is a scrap book."

ITS EXTENT.

"Do you like the marble bust sent you among your other ornaments?"

"Oh, it's head and shoulders over the rest of them."

USELESS TROUBLE.

"Don't dignify that accusation with a reply."

"I dare say a reply in this case wouldn't answer."

ITS SORT.

"I hear Jiggs has locomotive ataxia."

"Is that one of the new ones?"

Don't Worry—Eat.

Memphis, Tenn.—Mrs. Emma D. Looney, of this place, says: "I suffered misery for nearly eight years, but since taking Cardui, I am much stronger, and I haven't missed a single meal. I hardly know how to express my gratitude." Don't worry about your symptoms—Cardui doesn't treat them. What you need is strength. Cardui helps you to get it. Take Cardui, because other tonics and medicines do not contain its peculiar and successful ingredients, imported especially for its manufacture. Half a century of success, has stamped Cardui with the seal of public approval. During the time, Cardui has benefited a million women. Why not you? Try it, today.—Advertisement.

SEEMED FATHER OF WORMS

Small Wonder That Little One Was Surprised at Size of Big Blacksnake.

Weeta is a little girl who lives in that part of Louisville at once and comprehensively denominated the West end. Her real name, of course, is Rita; but this is too much for her playmates, and their version of it has been taken by her and their elders until now they have to stop and think who is meant when this appellation is used.

Ordinarily, her communication, if not yea, yea, and nay, nay, is as acceptable in the sight of good folk as that of any six-year-old; but last week an incident occurred which startled her out of her accustomed decorum. She had been taken to the country for a visit and accompanied one of the men to the big barn, where, in the course of his labors, he uncovered a huge blacksnake that had hidden under a pile of boards.

After it has been dispatched and the excitement was all over, Weeta, viewing the remains, ejaculated: "Gosh! What a worm!"—Louisville Times.

A DIG

He—Yes, I was going abroad, but I—aw—changed my mind, you know.

She—Well, I do hope you get a better one in the change.

DON'T MONKEY WITH THE PAINT.

Bacon—I see in the course of one year more than 6,000 persons were identified by their finger prints in the London police court.

Egbert—Which goes to prove that when a man sees the "Fresh Paint" sign he wants to take the sign's word for it.

AN IMPORTANT DIFFERENCE.

"You realize that you are but a servant of the people."

"Not exactly," replied Senator Sorghum. "I can't help feeling that I have a lot more respect for the people than many servants have for their employers."

TENTATIVE OFFER.

"Could I interest you in a little scheme to make you rich?" asked the suave caller.

"You might," answered the busy person at the desk, "if you would pay me the first dividend in advance."

MARCH OF CIVILIZATION.

"Science is wonderful!"

"Yes, I just read of a new gun which can send a projectile even through a Bible carried over a man's heart."

TOO NARROW.

Mrs. Knicker—Poor man, here is a penny.

Weary Willie—No, thanks, mum. I don't approve of charitable foundations.

NATURAL SEQUENCE.

"The witness seemed to have his wits scattered."

"I suppose that is why he couldn't collect himself."

THE WORST.

"What is the most difficult disease you have to contend with?" asked the student.

"Imagination," replied the doctor.

ITS KIND.

"Messenger boys have no dress uniform, have they?"

"No; theirs is strictly a fatigue uniform."

A DRAWBACK.

"Jiggers boasts that he can marry any woman he pleases."

"Perhaps he can, but he pleases so few."

GOOD ROADS

ROADS MUST BE MAINTAINED

No Phase of Public Thoroughfare
Problem of More Importance—
Keep Surface Well Drained.

There is no phase of the road problem more important than that of maintenance. The general impression that there are certain types of roads that are permanent is erroneous. No permanent road has ever been constructed or ever will be. The only things about a road that may be considered permanent are the grading, culverts and bridges. Roads constructed by the most skillful highway engineers will soon be destroyed by the traffic, frost, rain and wind, unless they are properly maintained. But the life of these roads may be prolonged by systematic maintenance. A poor road will not only be improved by proper maintenance, but may become better in time than a good road without it.

The first and last commandment in earth road maintenance is to keep the surface well drained. To insure good drainage the ditches should be kept open, all obstructions removed and a smooth crown maintained. Except for very stony soil, the road machine or scraper may be used very effectively for this work. The machine should be used once or twice a year, and the work should be done when the soil is damp, so that it will pack and bake into a hard crust. Wide and shallow side ditches should be maintained, with sufficient fall and capacity to dispose of surface water. These ditches can in most cases be constructed and repaired with a road machine.

All vegetable matter such as sods and weeds should be kept out of the road, as they make a spongy surface which retains moisture. Clods are also objectionable, for they soon turn to dust or mud, and for that reason roads should never be worked when dry or hard. Bowlders or loose stones are equally objectionable if a smooth surface is to be secured.

A split-log drag or some similar device is very useful in maintaining the surface after suitable ditches and cross sections have once been secured. This drag can also be used to advantage on a gravel road as well as on an earth road. The principle involved in dragging is that clays and most heavy soils will puddle when wet and set very hard when dry. The little attention that the earth road needs must be given promptly and at the proper time if the best results are to be obtained.

In dragging roads only a small amount of earth is moved, just enough to fill the ruts and depressions with a thin layer of plastic clay or earth which packs very hard, so that the next rain, instead of finding ruts, de-pressions and clods in which to collect, runs off, leaving the surface but little affected.

The drag should be light and should be drawn over the road at an angle of about 45 degrees. The driver should ride on the drag and should not drive

King Road Drag.

faster than a walk. One round trip, each trip studding a wheel track, is usually sufficient to fill the ruts and smooth the surface. If necessary the road should be dragged after every bad spell of weather, when the soil is in proper condition to puddle well and still not adhere to the drag. If the road is very bad it may be dragged when very wet and again when it begins to dry out.

Crown of Earth Road.

The slope or crown of an earth road should be about one inch to the foot.
If the crown becomes too high it may be reduced by dragging toward the ditch instead of from it. If the drag cuts too much, shorten the hitch and change your position on the drag. If it is necessary to protect the face of the drag with a strip of iron, it should be placed flush with the edge of the drag and not projecting. A cutting edge should be avoided, as the main object in dragging is to smear the damp soil into position.

GRAHAM BREAD.

It is claimed that the healthiest of all breads is graham bread, so named for the American physician who invented it. It is made of wheat and corn, both grains being so coarsely milled that they contain almost all of the outer husk of grain.
No yeast is used in baking it. The dough is softened and made porous by a process of steaming, the water remaining in the dough through this process being evaporated while baking. Graham bread can be taken by the weakest stomach without injury.

ELUSIVE IMPRESSION.

"I listened to your speech with close attention," said the man who tries to be pleasant, but fails.
"And did it set you thinking?"
"It did. And the next time you deliver it I'm going to listen again and see if I can find out what I was thinking about."

DRESSING TO PLEASE.

"It's just 'clothes, clothes, clothes'
all the time," growled Mr. Cobbles.
"Don't you women ever think of anything but clothes?"
"Why, yes," answered Mrs. Cobbles. "Occasionally we think of you men and then we go and buy more clothes."

AN EFFORT TO BE SAFE.

"Could you lend me an umbrella?"
"No. I'll give you the umbrella on condition that you come back in an hour or so and lend it to me."

ITS KIND.

"The man of the hour in Mexico must be a man on horseback."
"Why so?"
"Because everybody says they need a stable government down there."

A VOICE OF LONELINESS.

"I shall have to learn to play golf."
"Need the exercise?"
"No. I want to understand what my friends are talking about."

SOME REGRET.

Patience—Did your vaccination cause you any regret?
Patrice—I should rather say it did. Why, Fred couldn't hug me for

DAIRY FACTS

KNOW WHAT COWS ARE DOING

Most Successful Dairymen Have Achieved Attainments Through Intelligent Forethought.

(By WILBER J. FRASER.)

The price of dairy products has advanced, but not in proportion to the advance in the prices of grain and land, and under the present conditions it is the height of folly to milk cows that do not pay expenses. It is, therefore, a matter of great concern to the dairyman to know what his cows are doing.

This is the day of thinkers, and it is to the dairyman's advantage to belong to this class. The proposition confronting the dairyman today is not primarily a matter of location, soil or climate; it is he, himself, that stands in the way of his own progress.

Few people realize what intelligence, care and study, what patience, observation and experience are needed to make a good dairyman, to interpret to the mind the language of the cow in such a manner as to understand her every need and be able to properly supply it. The inherent and fatal weakness of many people is that they wholly ignore the really important and decisive factor of success in all fields of human activity, viz., trained and intelligent judgment, based on sound theory and practice. The cause and cure for the backwardness of the dairyman is in his mind, and in the solution of his problems chief prominence must be given to the human factor. The trouble with many dairymen is that they think they know, which is the worst possible kind of ignorance.

know that we are ignorant." Our most successful dairymen have attained their achievements, not by luck, but through intelligent forethought.

SECURE THE CLEANEST MILK

Barns Should Be Kept Unpolluted and Yards Free From Manure and Litter of All Kinds.

These rules are given for the cleanest milk obtainable with only little more than ordinary care: Barns should be kept clean and well ventilated, the yards free from manure and litter and drained so that no water will stand there. Before milking, the cows should be brushed around the flanks and udder with a stiff brush; this should be followed with a damp cloth which will remove many of the dust particles and so dampen the others that they will stick to the cow during the process of milking. The milker should keep his hands dry during the milking. Milking with damp hands is a filthy process and is apt to cause the teats of a cow to chafe and become a source of annoyance. The milk should be removed from the barn or milking pen to a milk house just as soon as possible after it is drawn. The milk should be separated and the cream cooled as soon as possible after milking.

MAKES GOOD FLY REPELLANT

Mixture of Rancid Lard and Kerosene
Will Afford Protection—Fish Oil
Is Also Used.

Three excellent fly repellants for use on the dairy cow are made as follows:

Rancid lard, one pound and kerosene one-half pint, mixed into a creamy mass and rubbed not too thickly with hand or cloth over the backs of cows, will give protection for several days.

Three parts fish oil and one part kerosene applied with a small spray pump will do the same.

Fish oil 100 parts, oil of tar 50 parts and crude carbolic acid 1 part, applied with a spray pump is a good fly repellant.

All are inexpensive and are recommended by the United States depart-

Most Important Task.

Selecting the herd bull is one of the most important tasks you have to do in connection with starting the dairy farm. It is far more of a problem to select the right bull than it is to select the right breed.

And Four Men Have a Narrow Escape From Death Wednesday Evening.

John Gunn, a young man who was building a concrete silo on the D. L. Grinter farm near Julien, and three negro workmen with him, had narrow escapes from death Wednesday evening. The roof they were putting on gave way and fell with them a distance of 42 feet.

Mr. Gunn was badly shaken up, but escaped without serious injuries. Isaiah Jones, col., had one of his jawbones broken in two places and was perhaps internally injured. The other two men escaped unhurt. The wooden frame for making the concrete top fell to the concrete floor of the silo and it is almost a miracle that the men were not all killed.

BARNUM & BAILEY HAVE HUNDREDS OF NEW FEATURES.

The Barnum and Bailey Greatest Show on Earth, which comes to Madisonville on Saturday, Oct. 9, claim to present this year "A Circus of All Nations," meaning one that is filled with all new features shown now for the first time and presented by 480 world-famed artists who represent every nation in the world. The entire world has been scoured by special Barnum and Bailey agents so that practically all the arenic stars that are really worth seeing take part.

The time-honored custom has always been to refer to each successive year's circus as "bigger and better than ever," but the phrase has become so hackneyed that, this year Barnum and Bailey hesitate to use it, despite the fact that it adequately describes the entertainment. More railroad cars are required to transport the show, bigger tents are raised, more area is needed to accommodate the show than ever before. In fact, the circus has reached a point where it is the despair of many of the smaller railroads and taxes their facilities to the limit, for eighty-five cars are needed to convey the gigantic canvas city from town to town.

There's material enough in this year's circus to make a dozen circuses of the old days. A "big top" 680 feet long, nearly 1,500 employees, three rings, four elevated platforms, acres of aerial apparatus, the biggest stage ever erected for a dramatic presentation, a 110 cage menagerie, 750 horses, forty elephants, a street parade three miles long.

Among the novelties offered this season are the "Six Riding Hannafords," "The Paldrens," balancing, pyramiding and head jumping on the tops of burning lamps. "Palenberg's Wonder Bears," "Adgie" and her den of nine performing African lions, Barnum and Bailey statue horses, Madam Bradna's Angel Horses. Three great herds of war elephants, trained and shown by the first and only lady elephant trainer. Besides these, are 60 riders, 60 acrobats and 60 clowns.

A wonderful prelude to this great circus is the presentation of the new, magnificent, spectacular pageant, "Lalla Rookh" in which more than 1,000 characters take part. Everyone should get an early start on circus day in order to be there in time for the parade which starts at 10 a. m., and which is said to be three miles long.

Minnie Gray, Colored, Meets
Death at Home of R. Y.
Pendleton.

Minnie Gray, colored, a farm hand in the employ of R. Y. Pendleton, died Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock, as the result of injuries sustained Wednesday morning, when he was kicked by a mule, says the Pembroke Journal.

Gray went to the stable to feed the mules, which he had driven in from the pasture. The mules came into the stable biting at each other, and one kicked at another, striking Gray, who was immediately behind him, in the stomach. He was knocked down, and said he was unable to get up for awhile, but finally got out of the stable and made his way near enough to the house to call the cook and ask her to call a doctor. Mrs. Pendleton telephoned Dr. Barker, while the cook assisted Gray to his cabin.

An investigation of the wound convinced his physician that Gray was seriously hurt. Peritonitis resulted from the wound and this caused his death after much suffering.

TRENTON ROMANCE

Courtship Carried on By Postage Stamps and Marriage Results.

Cupid toyed with Uncle Sam's mail and as a result, Jesse Bland, twenty-two years old, living at 100 Lodge avenue, Evansville, and Miss Daisy Macken, twenty years old, were married at the home of the bride at Trenton, Ky. The courtship was carried on in the language of postage stamps and runs in this wise:

Bland's sister, Myrtle, last summer visited in Trenton and while there met Miss Macken. They corresponded after Miss Bland's return. The sister gave Bland a post card to mail for her. It was addressed to the Kentucky girl. Bland affixed the stamp obliquely. In the language of postage stamps that means, "Let's get acquainted." Miss Bland wrote the Trenton girl that her brother wanted to know if she knew the language of postage stamps. When the answer came from Trenton the stamp was placed so that it read, "Sure."

Then a correspondence sprang up. Finally Bland placed a stamp straight across the envelope with the edges touching.

"Do you know what that means?" he wrote. "It's 'I love you.'" The young people's love blossomed with the aid of United States mail and photographs, but the family knew nothing of the young man's intentions when he left home, presumably to go to work in the country. And then came the telegram Wednesday that told of the happy marriage.

GERMAN U-BOATS

Heavy Losses of Submarines

Cause of Berlin's Willingness to Change Methods.

Providence, R. I. Sept. 24.—The Providence Journal says:

The reason why the German Government has consented to change its submarine methods is because over 800 per cent. of its submarines have been destroyed and its overseas warfare brought to complete failure within the past two months.

The Journal is able to print this morning the full and accurate story of the manner in which the British navy has accomplished this work. The operations under the present method have lasted over a period of four months and they would have been brought to a successful completion many weeks ago if the British naval authorities had realized that some of the mechanical contrivances made use of were not fit for the work.

Sixty-seven German submarines, twenty-eight of which are declared to have been of the newest and latest construction, have been sunk and their crews destroyed by the British navy since the fifth day of May. It is stated on positive authority that the full capacity of the German ship yards for undersea boats is not more than three a month, but that even if Germany were able to replace her submarines as fast as they had been destroyed, the most grave situation she faces in regard to this method of warfare is the actual destruction of the morale of the officers and crews of such vessels.

It is declared that while the sailors who man German submarines are as brave and efficient as those of any nation in the world, the authorities have been unable to keep from them the facts with regard to the mysterious disappearance of dozens of submarines with their entire crews and that this condition has brought about a practical panic among all men in this branch of the service, who not only believe that when they leave the protection of their own waters they are going to destruction, but who have not understood how that destruction was being brought about.

Hadn't Reached the Stubborn Age.

Old Polk Daniels of Howard says he was going down the street the other evening when a little girl headed him off at the corner and said: "Oh, Mr. Danpells, won't you please do something for me?" "Well, won't I?" was the response; "only name it!" "Well, won't you please catch me a lightning bug?" Now, just picture the business of a 320-pound man chasing down an elusive lightning bug for a little blue-eyed girl on a warm evening! "Would n't you rather have an ice cream cone?" he asked. "Oh, yes, 'deed I would," she replied. These little blue-eyed girls are a whole lot more easily compromised with than the big brown-haired ones, Old Polk reflected.—Kansas City Star.

Sex in Flowers.

All flowering plants have what is called pollen, which is composed of minute particles generated in the flower, and which has a definite sexuality. The male pollen seeks that union which will make for reproduction, and it has been said poetically that desire in the flowers is as intense as in any other form of life. Only the flowers could tell this, and the flowers don't speak our language, though we poor humans have artificially and empirically coined a "language of the flowers."

IN THE DAYS OF FALCONRY MONEY SIDE OF THE WAR

Hawks Remarkably Well Trained for the Work That They Were Required to Do.

Falconry, or hawking, was a favorite sport with the nobility and gentry of Europe down to the first half of the seventeenth century. Hawks were trained to mount and pursue game and bring it to their masters and mistresses, coming and going to the call of the latter with marvelous docility.

The hawks were tricked out with gay hoods and held until ordered to pursue "the quarry," or game, by leathern straps fastened with rings of leather about each leg just above the talons, and silken cords called "jesses." To each of these leathern straps, or "bewets," was attached a small bell. In the flight of hawks it was often so arranged that the different bells made "a consort of sweet sounds."

Bells of this description, but of the cheapest kind, were among the most popular trinkets used by the early explorers and traders in bartering with the natives of America.

Why Invitation Was Declined.

We was asted by our old friend Billie Moore, th' duck that built th' Texas City dike, to be amongst them present an' participate in th' doin's yesterday, but our understandin' of th' function led us ter believe that there'd be altogether to much water on hand for us. We air always ready ter close th' dike into our face an' prevent any water f'm flowin' thoo, and we air always prepared ter put our wishbone again a bar an' push until th' last man has treated an' retreated, but we hope our of friend will forgive us fer not exposin' our fool self ter that much water. Somethin when he is thinkin' of openin' somethin' instead of closin' it we'll have our corkscrew ready ter render first aid.—Alkali Eye.

When International Credit "Went to Pot," So to Speak, Overnight.

In the August American Magazine a well-known American banker writes an article entitled "The Money Side of the War," in which he reveals many surprising facts. In the course of his article he tells as follows how international credit "went to pot" overnight:

"On July 27, 1914, in the midst of the crash of security values on our stock exchange, $12,000,000 of our gold was exported. The next day Austria declared war on Serbia and in the ten days thereafter we sent $45,000,000 more gold out of this country. The war became general. Great Britain and most of the continental countries declared moratoria. That meant internationally that these nations stopped paying their debts, but they could ask the other fellow to pay what he owed them. America, which did not declare any moratorium, thus became the target for everything. We were the only people that declared themselves ready to pay cash.

"Sterling exchange continued to rise, and at one time soon after the outbreak of the war touched $7. This meant that, whereas ordinarily it costs us $4.865, we will say, to buy the equivalent of what £1 will buy, it then cost us $7. And if we owed £1,000 in London and had to pay it at once, it cost us $7,000 to do it, instead of, as ordinarily, $4,865. Even at that it was almost impossible to get any amount of exchange. Our vaunted international credit system, built up over a series of generations, 'went to pot' overnight. Ocean transportation was violently disarranged. It was impossible to get bottoms wherein to ship; and the rates for marine and war insurance ran so high that manufacturers could no longer afford to ship."

His Anxious Query.

At a hospital one day a little boy came into the room to see his mother, who was quite ill. He was crying bitterly and, coming over to the bed, he looked down at her, saying, "Mother, is there any chance for you dying?"

IMPERATIVE NEED FOR SISAL

Not a Soda Fountain Gas, but the Stuff Necessary to Make Binder Twine.

If the United States had not sent several warships to Progreso, Yucatan, to force the free exportation of sisal, which had been forbidden by Carranza, the American farmers would now be in terrible straits.

Sisal hemp is used to make the binder twine for harvesting wheat and the farmers will need a lot of it this year for the bumper crop. Sisal is also grown in Java, East Africa, the Bahamas and the Hawaiian islands, but little has been exported from those places since the war began. It was therefore necessary that Carranza's prohibition be brushed aside and that the free exportation of sisal be allowed. As soon as this began the exports for June, 1915, jumped to 123,350 bales as compared with 80,208 bales for the same month in 1914. In June, 1914, sisal was bought for 29 cents (Mexican) per kilo, a kilo being about 2 1/5 pounds, while in June, 1915, the price paid for sisal was 104 cents (Mexican) per kilo. The tremendous increase in price is due to the heavy demand for it, which is increased by the fact that it is impossible to import from Europe products that might replace sisal in making binding twine.

SEES WEALTH IN THE LAND

Chinese Philosopher, Chang Chien, is Called the Ben Franklin of That Land.

The Benjamin Franklin of China, the sage philosopher of the celestial land, is Chang Chien, the modern minister of agriculture and commerce whose one idea is to put his country on a sound economic and social basis by improving the land.

Mr. Chang was born sixty-two years ago. His father was a wealthy land owner of Haimen, a country town in Kiagsu province, near the mouth of the Yangtze river, a great cotton-producing district. As a boy he saw the horrors of the Taiping rebellion, which stirred him to help his country to better things.

In the old regime the gateway to success in political life lay in scholarship, and Chang passed the highest in his province and became noted in China for his learning. But he did not bury himself in books. On the contrary, he devoted all his energy to founding and maintaining elementary, agricultural and technical schools, as well as charitable institutions. Furthermore, he was responsible for increased production in his province both of crops and factories. Land reclamation, fish hatcheries and the improvement of waterways were also on his program.

A PESSIMIST

"I don't believe one knows what true happiness is till one marries."
"And then he has given it up forever."

MISLED.

"Why did you accept him, anyway?"
"Because he proposed to me in the handsomest automobile I ever saw."
"I don't see what that had to do with it."
"It had a great deal. I thought the car was his."

DOMESTIC TILT.

"Why do you persist in propping your feet up on the veranda railing?" asked Mrs. Cobbles.
"I guess it's just my contrary nature," answered Mr. Cobbles. "The veranda railing is one thing you have never been able to put where I can't find it."

AN OLD STORY.

"I believe the world is getting worse instead of better. Look at what happened to the cathedral of Reims."

"Tut, tut, man! The world is no worse than it used to be. Look at what happened to King Solomon's temple."

THE REASON.

"Candidates for office in Rome wore white robes to show their political purity."
"Then 'tis no wonder Rome howled."

AN OUNCE OF INVENTION.

Knicker—They are trying to improve our navy.
Bocker—Yes, an ounce of invention is worth a pound of cure.

A MERE TRIFLE.

She—I'm worrying about my new bathing costume.
He—That's little enough to worry about.

OVERDUE.

"Queer summer, isn't it?"
"Yep. The 'is-it-hot-enough-for-you friend' is about six weeks overdue already."

SMALL AMOUNT.

Mrs. Meyser—Could you give me a little money, my dear?
Mr. Meyser—Certainly, my dear! About how little?

Optimist and Pessimist.

Optimist is derived from the Latin optimus, best, that being the superlative degree of bonus, melior, optimus, good, better, best. Pessimist is derived from pessimus, the superlative of malus, peior, pessimus, bad, worse, worst. Optimist, therefore, represents the best in everything, and pessimist exactly the opposite or the worst. An optimist is one who looks on the bright side of things and takes hopeful views, while a pessimist sees only the dark side. The two words have figurative applications in religion, in politics and in everyday life.

INCOME TAX LAW

AGAIN ATTACKED.

Washington, Sept. 23.—Counsel for Union Pacific Railroad stockholders and others have filed a brief in the Supreme Court attacking as unconstitutional the income tax provisions of the Underwood-Simmons tariff law.

The attorneys contend that while the sixteenth amendment empowers congress to impose a tax on "incomes from whatever source derived," the framers of the law stretched it to cover many taxes other than on income.

It is asserted, too, that there is no constitutional authority for taxing a specific class of persons, unmarried men, more than others, or for the super-tax imposed upon men with incomes over $20,000.

SUPREME COURT TO

PASS ON GAME LAW

Washington, Sept. 24.—The killing of three wild ducks by Harvey C. Shauver, of Arkansas, is to be made the basis for seeking a supreme court decision on the constitutionality of the federal law authorizing the department of agriculture to regulate the killing of migratory wild game. Although the law was enacted in 1907, this is the first case to reach the supreme court regarding its validity.

WOOLDRIDGE-BOHN.

Popular Sixth Ward Councilman Married Wednesday Night.

Councilman Robert M. Wooldridge, one of the best known bachelors in the city, became a benedict Wednesday night at 8 o'clock. There had been rumors that the jovial tobaccoist was getting tired of single life, but the denouement came with startling suddenness. In fact the wedding was over before the rumor was taken seriously. The bride was Miss Mary Bohn, the popular trained nurse, who came here from Henderson six years ago and has made many friends. She is a graduate of St. Mary's Hospital and has been highly successful in her chosen profession.

The marriage was at the residence of Father J. P. Welch, of the Catholic church, and they were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Jas. H. Skarry.

Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Wooldridge repaired to the residence of the groom's brother, Mr. S. U. Wooldridge, where they will be until they can go to housekeeping in the near future.

The popular groom, who is a candidate for City Commissioner, is too busy just now to let his happiness interfere with his canvass and was down in town bright and early with the back end of his buggy filled with old shoes and rice.

Two Burned in Home.

Crossville, Tenn., Sept. 22.—Tuesday morning at 1 o'clock J. D. Rush, who lives at Grassy Cove, twelve miles from here, saw his brother's house in flames. He rushed to the scene, but when he got there the house had fallen in. Later the charred bodies of his brother, Will Rush and wife were found in the ruins. On investigation blood was found in the yard, and it is thought they were murdered and the house then set on fire. Bloodhounds were telegraphed for immediately.

Will Rush was a prosperous young farmer. He had married in Washington a Canadian woman, and they had only been back in Cumberland county one year. They had no children.
